

In the Specification:

Please amend the following paragraph for the currently pending paragraph on page 1, first full paragraph, in the background section of the specification:

The present invention relates to an improved mechanical component for CVT (continuously variable transmission) chains, and more particularly relates to reduction in noise emission by a mechanical component such as a pin or a strip used for CVT chains.